
Section 23 Schedule 1

Future developments Automatically Subject to Environmental Impact Assessment

1. All mining developments. However, air and ground reconnaissance, survey, mapping and core sampling by drilling shall be permitted without the preparation of impact statements.

Any significant additions, alterations or modifications to existing mining developments.

2. Siting and operation of major sand and gravel pits and quarries.

3. Energy Production:

- a) Hydro-electric power plants and nuclear installations and their associated works;
- b) Storage and water supply reservoirs ;
- c) Transmission lines of 75 KV and over ;
- d) Extraction and processing of energy yielding materials ;
- e) Fossil-fuel fired power generating plants above three thousand (3,000) Kilowatts.

4. Forestry:

- a) Major access roads built for extraction of forest products ;
- b) Wood, pulp and paper mills or other forestry plants;
- c) In general, any significant change in land use substantially affecting more than 25 square miles.

5. Community and Municipal Services:

- a) new significant sewage and waste water collection and disposal systems;
- b) solid waste collection and disposal, including land fill and incineration;
- c) proposals for parks, wilderness areas, ecological reserves other similar land classifications ;
- d) new outfitting facilities for more than thirty (30) persons, including networks of outpost camps;
- e) new towns, communities or municipalities or significant expansion thereof.

6. Transportation:

- a) access roads to and near communities;
- b) port and harbor facilities;
- c) airports,

- d) railroads;
- e) road infrastructure for new development ;
- f) pipelines;
- g) dredging operations for navigation improvements.